1. Rationale

Catholic schools can serve as models for all within Western Australia who seek to create genuine communities. Such communities are always founded upon shared commitment to the common good (Mandate, 6).

Pursuant to the Occupational Safety and Health Act (WA) 1984 (the OSH Act) and in accordance with the Mandate for Catholic Education, the Catholic Education Commission of Western Australia (CECWA) is committed to ensuring the safety and health of all people whilst on school premises.

Therefore, all Catholic schools shall endeavour to:
- ensure the safety, health and welfare of all employees and non-employees on school premises
- develop, promote, and maintain safe and healthy school premises that seek to minimise the risk of injury or illness for employees and non-employees
- create a culture of safety that encourages the development, maintenance and promotion of healthy school premises, and
- ensure that adequate financial, physical and human resources are available to support the management of occupational safety and health on school premises.

2. Definitions

An employer is a person who engages employees, and includes an accountable officer, such as a principal or such other figure of authority delegated with the duty of employing and/or directing employees and non-employees whilst on school premises.

An employee is any person working under a contract of employment, apprenticeship or traineeship scheme. For the purposes of this policy statement, the term employee shall also include contractors engaged by the employer to carry out work associated with the business of the school.

Non-employee refers to any person legally on the school premises who may be affected by the work activity, and shall include students, parents, guardians, caregivers, community members and volunteers.

Catholic school refers to an educational venue as defined by the Teacher Registration Act 2012 that is part of the Catholic Education system in Western Australia. This includes schools as well as early learning and care services.

School premises include the school campus and places away from a school campus such as a campsite or where school excursions may take place from time to time.

A Provisional Improvement Notice (PIN) is a notice issued by a safety and health representative to the employer requiring them to address an occupational safety and health concern in the workplace.

4.4 When engaged in activities on school premises, employees and non-employees are required to take reasonable care for their own health and safety.
